DEATH OVERTAKES WIDOW OF LATE KING EDWARD AT 5:25 P. M. FRIDAY FOLLOWING HEARTS ATTACKS

SANDRINGHAM, Nov. 20.—Queen Mother Alexandra, widow of King Edward VII, and mother of King George V, died late this afternoon at Sandringham House.

Queen Alexandra passed to rest amid the peaceful surroundings which she loved so well. Since Thursday morning, when the doctor's announcement made it patent that the aged queen was in a critical condition, the village of Sandringham and its tiny neighbors Wilford and Dersingham, which claimed her for their very own, had waited heavily-hearted for the end.

Throughout the long hours little groups lingered, wet-eyed at the portals of the royal house, hoping against hope for some word that their beloved mistress would survive.

Death came at 5:25 o'clock. A bulletin signed by the attending physicians, Dr. F. J. Williams and Sir Thomas Horder, said: "Her Majesty Queen Alexandra passed away at 5:25 o'clock. The queen, king and members of the royal family were present."

The Prince of Wales and the Duke of York were due to arrive at Sandringham by train at 5:20 o'clock but the train was 10 minutes late. The king's sons were escorted to the royal waiting room in the station, where the station master broke the news of their grandmother's death.

Would Have Been 81 on December 1st

Within a few days (on December 1) the queen mother would have celebrated the 81st anniversary of her birth and all the inhabitants had been preparing in elaborate fashion to celebrate the event at Sandringham House. Additional telegraphic apparatus had been installed to cope with the inevitable shower of congratulations and good wishes from all parts of the empire. This is now being used to tell her people in the four corners of the earth of how she died.

Even to the people of Sandringham, who knew the frailty of their queen, news of the menacing heart attack came as a surprise. Only on Wednesday she out driving as was her custom and a few days ago it was authoritatively stated that she was in better health than for some time past.

So the news of the previous heart attack after Thursday morning came as a stunning blow.

The king and queen, Prince Henry, Princess Victoria and Queen Maud of Norway, Alexandra's third daughter, were already at Sandringham on one of the customary visits. The family gathering had not been pre-arranged as there seemed to be no cause for special anxiety about the condition of the queen mother.

King Rushes to Mother's Bedside

King George was the host of a shooting party when news of the attack reached him and he rushed to his mother's bedside. His first glimpse of the anxious, tear-strained faces of the servants and officials of Sandringham House told him plainer than words of the true situation.

The king stayed with his mother as long as the doctors thought advisable.

The villagers stood stiffly at attention and listened, barched, while over the radio came the strains of "God Save the King."

All Surviving Children at Sandringham

This morning the Princess Royal Louise, eldest of Alexandra's three daughters, arrived from London to join the other royal ladies here. Thus, all the surviving children of the queen mother were at Sandringham.

One of the most pathetic figures on the scene during the last trying hours was the aged Miss Charlotte Knollys who has been in attendance upon her majesty for fifty-five years. During all that time—throughout the greater part of Alexandra's life in England—Miss Knollys rendered service of striking devotion, receiving in return the deep affection of her royal mistress. Perhaps there has been no parallel in the history of royal houses for such a long and loving association as this. The queen and Miss Knollys had grown old together and were almost inseparable, the latter being more a personal friend than a servant. Miss Knollys, of about the same age as Alexandra, was ninety-one, and had served Alexandra faithfully fifty-two years.

Something of his mistress' affection for him was shown on his ninety-first birthday. When he opened the gate to the church in Sandringham for his queen on that day she stooped and tenderly kissed him.

The tragedy of the queen mother's last moments was heightened by the non-arrival of the Prince of Wales, her favorite grandson. His train from London was delayed by fog.

The intensity of the Prince's grief was evidenced on his face, when after a brief moment in the station, he entered a motor car with the Duke of York and drove slowly through the fog to the house of mourning.

All Britain Mourns Passing of Dowager Queen

LONDON, Nov. 21.—All Great Britain stood today with bowed heads, mourning the passing of the beloved Dowager Queen Alexandra. The flags flew at half mast and many buildings were draped in black.

Death came to Queen Alexandra late yesterday afternoon in Sandringham Palace, and Queen Mary, and various members of the royal household stood with tear-dimmed eyes at her bedside. The Prince of Wales, always her favorite grandson, had fate in the nature of a heavy fog against him as he traveled from London to Sandringham to bid his grandmother farewell.

Attacked by heart disease Thursday the aged queen mother, who would have been 81 in a few days, sank rapidly and death intervened as twilight was coming on. When the announcement was made at Sandringham that Alexandra was dead, the little crowds that had gathered outside the gates, all of whom knew her, silently bared their heads and sadly wended their way homeward.

News Broadcast by Radio The news was quickly broadcast and listeners throughout the British Isles heard over their radio sets that the widow of King Edward VII and the mother of their present monarch, had gone to her last resting place. In London from 8 to 9 o'clock, the bell in St. Paul's tolled out the tale of the passing of the mother of Great Britain's royal family. It is only when a member of royalty dies that the bell in St. Paul's is rung.

Funeral Date Not Set

No date has yet been announced for the funeral of Alexandra nor when her body will be taken to Windsor for burial in the royal vault in St. George's chapel beside that of King Edward VII.

The newspapers today came out in deep mourning. They print many columns of the details of her life and doings and many pictures illustrating her career since she arrived in England in 1863 to become the bride of the Prince of Wales. In indication of the popular affection existing for Alexandra is the fact that laboring organs such as the Herald, which usually ignore royal happenings or print an item concerning them when other newspapers print a column, today devotes two columns to the death of the queen mother and also a cordial editorial, headed: "A woman with a kind heart." It is thought that the funeral will not take place before a fortnight, so that all relatives in Europe will have time to reach London.

Private Services Held

SANDRINGHAM, Eng., Nov. 21.—Private family services for Dowager Queen Alexandra were conducted today by her chaplain, Rev. Dr. Grant in the bedroom of Sandringham House, where the body is lying. The king and queen and other near relatives attended. Dr. F. J. Williams who attended the queen in her fatal illness, told press correspondents: "Queen Alexandra was unconscious to the last. She uttered no word. The end was the most peaceful any could possibly wish."

A singular coincidence occurred with the death. The visitors' book of Sandringham, in use for 35 years, was completed. The final signature on the last page was made within a few hours of the queen's passing.

The United States ambassador, Allan B. Houghton, today sent his personal condolences to King George. He also expressed to the foreign office the sympathy of the United States.

Canadian Sympathy

KINGSTON, Nov. 21.—The sympathy of Canadian women in the sad bereavement of the royal family by the death of Queen Alexandra is to be expressed in a letter from the executive of the National Council of Women in session here.

Denmark Court in Mourning

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 21.—The Danish court today went into mourning for Dowager Queen Alexandra of Britain who, before her marriage to the late King Edward was a Danish princess. The mourning period will last three weeks.

SANDRINGHAM, Nov. 23.—Throughout the night in the quiet of the dimly lighted little church, Sandringham four servants of the royal household watched beside the oak coffin in which lies the body of Dowager Queen Alexandra.

With the purest simplicity the coffin was taken over the path on which Alexandra passed to the church to offer up her devotions. It was wheeled under the trees by servants, followed by Princess Victoria and Princess Mary of Greece. On arriving at the church it was placed before the altar and over it was thrown a pall, the queen mother's own standard.

No crepe was to be seen inside the little church, nor were the candles lighted. A few wreaths were placed about the coffin.

Simplicity also marked the funeral service which was held later. The minister delivered a tribute to Alexandra but did not preach a sermon.

The service was attended by King George and Queen Mary and the Prince of Wales and other persons.

With them mourned a large number of the regular members of the congregation.

King Places Wreath

King George walked from the palace to the church, taking with him a wreath and a cross made of dark colored violets and white and pink flowers. These floral pieces were the joint tributes of the king and the queen.

After the service the king and queen and all the royal personages returned to Sandringham House and four servants took up their watch beside the oak coffin.

From today until Thursday, when the body will be taken to Westminster Abbey for the funeral services will be open daily so that those who desire may pass by the bier and pay their respects to the beloved woman who for many had known and had seen in Sandringham. After the ceremony in Westminster Abbey the body of Alexandra will be taken to Windsor Castle. There, on Saturday, it will be laid beside that of her husband, King Edward VII, under the Albert memorial chapel in which they were married in 1863.

An American Tribute

DETROIT, Nov. 23.—Tribute was paid to the late Dowager Queen Alexandra at a memorial service held here yesterday. The memorial address was delivered by the Rev. G. G. Atkins, of the First Congregational church of Detroit, extending sympathy to the people of this country following Alexandra's death.

Will Attend Funeral

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 21.—The aged and feeble dowager empress of Russia, who was Alexandra's favorite sister, this morning declared her intention of going to England for the funeral. It is understood, however, that King Christian I persuaded her to abandon the plan, which might prove too great a strain although her health is better than for a long time.

The foreign diplomats today left cards of condolence with the king and dowager queen of Denmark.

DARWINIAN THEORY AGAIN

Two clod men were standing on the corner discussing family trees. "Yes, sub, man," said Ambrose. "I can trace my relatives back to a family tree."

"Chase 'em back to a family tree," said Mose.

AUTO TOURISTS GET PRIVILEGES

SEATTLE, Nov. 18.—Under a regulation approved yesterday by the customs division of the treasury department, auto tourists from Canada hereafter will be permitted to remain ninety days in the United States without putting up a bond at the border to assure the return of their auto within that period.

30 Days in Canada

VANCOUVER, Nov. 18.—The above dispatch was received here today with interest, as the federal authorities at Ottawa recently refused an application made by the Auto Club of British Columbia to have the thirty-day permits issued to American tourists visiting Canada similarly extended.

"MEN AND WOMEN" A HUMAN

PARA-MOUNT DOMESTIC-DRAMA—WILLIAM DEMILLE PRODUCTION COMING TO THE EMPRESS THEATRE FEATURES FINE CAST OF PLAYERS

There is no hero, no heroine, no villain in this story—the characters are just men and women.

This title opens the new William De Mille—Paramount production, "Men and Women," which comes to the Empress Theatre next Wednesday.

"But they live in New York the city which makes all incomes too small to live on," adds the next title.

"Men and Women" is a dramatic study of a group of young people who, through weakness and mistakes, and not through the inherent wickedness of one or the other, place themselves and each other in acute situations. It is the type of drama, which Mr. DeMille handles with facility and sincerity.

The story centers around a bank cashier and a young woman. The cashier's assistant also loves her, and in his desire to make her happy, buys her gowns and jewelry and entertains both her and her husband.

The two men are friends until the husband, fearing that the gifts of jewelry will make her dissatisfied, asks the assistant not to give his wife any more presents. The assistant frankly contends that he can give her the finer she craves, that he can make her happy and that he intends to marry her.

In his desire to retain his wife's love, the cashier takes bank bonds to speculate in the stock market. The assistant cashes the securities and is lost and the broker ends his life. The assistant cashier is suspected of having taken the bank's valuables and the husband, by remaining silent, can send his rival to prison. His confession wins him the support of the banker and the chance to begin life anew with his wife in the South.

For "Men and Women," De Mille has assembled a fine cast of players. Richard Dix, Paramount star, is featured with Neil Hamilton, Claire Adams and Robert Edson in the principal roles.

The picture is an adaptation by Clara Beranger of the successful play of the same name by David Belasco and Henry C. De Mille. Henry Stephenson, Flora Finch and others play in support.

"STREET OF FORGOTTEN MEN" HAS FINE CAST—PERCY MARMONT, NEIL HAMILTON AND MARY BRAIN ARE FEATURED

Percy Marmont, Neil Hamilton and Mary Brain are featured in the leading roles of the new Herbert Brenon-Paramount production, "The Street of Forgotten Men," which will be shown at the Empress Theatre on Monday and Tuesday.

The picture is an adaptation by Paul Liberty of George Kibbe Turner's play which is an underworld romance laid on the Bowery in the late 90's.

Marmont, whom fans will remember best for his great work in "The Light That Failed" and "If Winter Comes," is cast as "Easy Money" Charlie in this picture. He is a fake cripple who preys a handsome living out of the gullible public. Charlie "inherits" a body girl whom he brings up in the belief that he is a wealthy business man and then, when she is of marriageable age, "dies" that nothing might stand in her way of happiness.

Bridgeport White-eye blackmail the girl, and Easy Money Charlie is compelled to "come back to life" to save her. It's a great situation, furnishing a "smash climax for the production, which is a second "Miracle Man" if there's ever to be one.

Mary Brain is the girl, Portland mittee will be received, and officers elected for the year 1926.

At this meeting I would like to see a representative from every business in Macleod, and a cordial invitation is extended to all farmers of the district.

By your co-operation we can make 1926 the banner year of the Board of Trade.

Yours truly, O. F. FANSET, President.

PAINLEVE RESIGNS

PARIS, Nov. 23.—The Painleve cabinet resigned yesterday following an adverse vote in the chamber of deputies on the government's finance bill. The administration was beaten 278 to 275—an adverse majority of three votes.

HE WOULD KNOW

Grandma found little Alice, aged four, amusing herself one Sunday afternoon by ironing her doll's clothes with her toy iron and board.

"Oh, Alice!" exclaimed Grandma. "Don't you know it is wrong to iron on the Sabbath?"

Raising her bright eyes to Grandma's face, she answered with surprise in her voice, "Why, Grandma, don't you suppose the good Lord knows this little iron aren't hot?"

People who live in class houses should pull down the curtains.

Mrs. L. T. Miquelon, pioneer resident of Wetaskiwin, died recently.

PERCY MARMONT LEADS DOUBLE LIFE IN PARAMOUNT'S "STREETS OF FORGOTTEN MEN," UNDERWORLD ROMANCE-DRAMA

From a professional beggar, strapping on his fake arm in the back room of a Bowery "cripple factory," to a gentleman of fashion, an outstanding figure in the famous East-Parade on Fifth Avenue, this is the amazing range by Percy Marmont in the unusual story of dual personality, "The Street of Forgotten Men," which comes to the Empress Theatre next Monday and Tuesday. As usual in such cases, a woman is the reason; but the remarkable thing about it is that she doesn't know it. George Kibbe Turner has fashioned a powerful drama out of material which is decidedly different.

Mary Brain is the girl, and Neil Hamilton completes the trio of players featured in the leading roles of the production.

Marmont, the Mark Sabre of "If Winter Comes," in "Easy Money" Charlie, a fake cripple, a fake beggar. In the cripple factory he is disguised each day as a man with but one arm.

Then one day he inherits a baby girl. Fancy (Miss Brain) falls in love with Hamilton and everything looks fine until "Bridgeport White-eye," played by John Harrington, threatens to "squel" on Charlie. That is the dramatic frame-work of Herbert Brenon's new Paramount production.

FLORA FINCH HAS COMEDY ROLE IN "MEN AND WOMEN"

Flora Finch finally got her wish! The famous comedienne, who was starred with the late John Bunny a decade or more ago, has always harbored a secret wish to play in a William De Mille production.

She got it when Mr. De Mille was selecting the cast for his production of "Men and Women." The part is that of Kate, a newly rich aunt from Kansas, who goes to New York to look over the town and then by it. It called for the most fashionable clothes of flapper tendencies ever worn by an elderly woman, and the combination of Flora Finch and the latest modes is, according to predictions, one of the best comedy bits of recent productions.

"Men and Women" is an adaptation by Clara Beranger of the stage hit written by the father of the Paramount producer, David Belasco, and Henry C. De Mille.

Richard Dix, Claire Adams, Neil Hamilton and Robert Edson are featured in the production, which comes to the Empress Theatre on next Wednesday and Thursday.

JUST A LITTLE ARGUMENT

An aged, gray-haired and very wrinkled old woman arrayed in the outlandish calico costume of the mountains, was summoned as a witness in court to tell what she knew about a fight in her house.

"Now, I tell ye, judge, it didn't amount to nuthin'," she said. "The first I knowed about it was when Bill Saunders called Tom Smith a liar on Tom knocked him down with a stick o' wood."

"One o' Bill's friends then cut Tom with a knife, s'iccin' a big chunk out o' him."

"Then Sam Jones, who was a friend of Tom's, shot the other three or four others got out right smart by somebody. That natchly caused some excitement jedge, en then they commenced fightin'. But, I tell ye, judge, it didn't amount to nuthin'!"

FAILURE TO SECURE PROPER SUPPORT FROM PRIVATE MEMBERS CAUSE PREMIER TO QUIT; BROWNLEE RELUCTANT TO ACCEPT

EDMONTON, Nov. 23.—At 11 o'clock this morning Hon. Herbert Greenfield resigned as premier and Attorney-General Brownlee was sworn in as leader of the government by Lieut.-Governor William Egbert.

Following a caucus of the private members of the government Saturday, events took a rapid turn this morning. Mr. Brownlee was exceedingly reluctant to accept the premiership under the circumstances but a personal appeal from Mr. Greenfield this morning that he accept the leadership had its effect and the attorney general agreed to assume the new office.

Changes in Cabinet

While the U. F. A. members were in the caucus chamber his honor Br. Egbert was summoned and Mr. Greenfield submitted his resignation, recommending that Mr. Brownlee be summoned as government leader. Within a few minutes the transfer was made and Mr. Brownlee was sworn in.

Premier Brownlee advised that Hon. George Hoadley, minister of agriculture and health, be appointed provincial secretary, a department presided over by Mr. Brownlee for the last year. Mr. Hoadley was accordingly sworn in for the new portfolio.

Hon. R. G. Ried, provincial treasurer, was sworn in as minister of municipal affairs, a portfolio he held since the formation of the government in 1921 until last year when this department was taken over by Premier Greenfield.

Brownlee Accepts Post Reluctantly

Premier Brownlee strongly objected to accepting the new office though the private members of the government have been insisting some weeks that he accept. He has been loyal to Mr. Greenfield to such an extent that following this morning, he would not agree to supplant his old chief.

The following letter from Mr. Greenfield this morning turned the scale: "Carefully reviewing the whole situation, and considering carefully not only the future of the government but of the farmer's movement, I am convinced that I should resign. I also believe that you should, if you can possibly see your way to do so, accept the premiership."

"You have made your views in connection with the whole matter very clear to me and I appreciate fully the difficulties of your position. 'Your absolute loyalty to myself throughout the past four years has been beyond question, and I would ask you not to allow any consideration of personal loyalty to myself to hinder your acceptance."

"Allow me again to thank you most sincerely for the invaluable assistance of your counsel and support during the past four years."

Yours sincerely, H. Greenfield.

To the Herald, Mr. Greenfield at his desk this morning declared his confidence in Mr. Brownlee and asserted that the attorney-general "has played the game to the finish."

Mr. Greenfield's statement that Mr. Greenfield retains no position in the cabinet and is not sure at present whether he will retain his seat in the house until the dissolution next year or not. He represents Peace River. The following statement on his position, and his explanation of the resignation, was handed out by Mr. Greenfield this morning:

"Following the provincial election of 1921, the United Farmer movement met in the city of Calgary to select a leader who, by virtue of the result of the election, would become president of the executive committee."

"I had not been a candidate in the election and was strongly disinclined to enter public life but in response to the unanimous request, verbally expressed by every member, I consented to accept the position, subsequently forming the present government which assumed office on August 13, 1921."

"To the work set me I have devoted my whole time, to the exclusion of every other interest, striving always to deal fairly and equally with all classes of the people."

Task Has Been Arduous One

"Everywhere in recent years post-war conditions have added greatly to the difficulties of government. Alberta has been no exception. The work of the past four years has been arduous and has been a heavy task on my shoulders."

Admits Breach With Supporters

"Latterly it has become increasingly evident that there is not the full accord between the supporters of the government in the legislature and myself which is essential to the successful continuation of any administration."

"This, in addition to purely personal considerations which do not call for mention here, have led me to the decision to retire from public life."

"We are now rapidly approaching the time when the administration must make its appeal for a further mandate from the people. In fairness to my successor in office and to give him the opportunity of forming his own plans for the election, I have decided to tender my resignation to his honor the Lieutenant-Governor."

Recommended Brownlee as His Successor

"In view of the fact that I have recommended to his honor the Lieutenant-Governor that he call on the Hon. J. E. Brownlee, attorney-general to form a government, I desire to take this occasion to express my deep appreciation of the support I have received from my colleagues, and especially the support and advice and assistance the attorney-general has consistently afforded me during four difficult years. I have the fullest confidence that he will carry out the duties of office with credit alike to the government and the province."

New Premier in Caucus With Members

Premier Brownlee and other ministers are in conference today regarding future policies of the government and it is likely the question of by-elections will be determined before the members disperse to their homes.

This morning Mr. Brownlee issued a statement on the election situation, stating that strong representations have been made from various constituencies against the holding of by-elections such a short time before the general election which must take place next year, and in view of these representations the government will review the whole situation and give an announcement shortly.

It is the general opinion that the by-elections will not take place, that a session will be called early in the new year and prorogation brought about as early as possible for an appeal to the country.

For the present no additions will be made to the executive council, Premier Brownlee retaining the position of attorney-general.

DECEMBER ROD AND GUN

A wealth of good sporting and hunting reading matter leavened with a good fiction story, "The Way of a White Man," is contained in the December issue of Rod and Gun, the magazine of the Canadian Outdoors, which has just been published. In addition to regular features of the magazine being in keeping with the period of the year, the other articles are very timely and "Along the Snowshoe Trail" in W. C. Motley's cartoon by James Frise also appears.

An interesting article in connection with the increasing interest in fur farming is Bonnycastle Dale's contribution, "The Life of the Black Fox," dealing with the animal in captivity.

A significant note in the matter of the protection of game is struck in the December editorial and the publication of the syllabus of the British Columbia Game Protective Association. The development of a Dominion wide protective association seems to be becoming more concrete.

HOW THE BOLSHIEVISTS WORK IT

A good many severe things have been written in condemnation of the exciting variations introduced into the theory and practice of government by the Bolshievisit masters of Russia.

Ordinarily these rapid-fire changes do not appeal to the more sedate minds, but the Bolshievisit have adopted such an efficient method of dealing with those who are overcome with absent-mindedness while handling public funds as to commend it to even the most meek

The simple and serious Russians just line their grafters up against any convenient stone wall. The Red Army attends to the rest.

The system is efficient, because it eliminates the unworthy while providing recruits with suitable targets.

Many other types of blight upon the body politic suggest themselves as subjects to be dealt with in this engaging fashion. And, besides, the Bolshievisit theory provides entertainment of a kind for the public.

FOR THE KIDDIES' SUPPER

Children who take cold lunches to school need hot and hearty food at night. Care, however, should be taken to see that the food is digestible as well as substantial in its nature.

One mother, whose three thriving children show her good care, contributes this hint.

Try a vegetable soup made with milk. Cook carrots, potatoes, a little onion and a little turnip all together in an enameled ware saucepan until all are very soft. Rub through a colander. Put milk into an enameled ware double boiler. Heat just short of boiling point and then stir in the pureed vegetables. Cook slowly in the milk until all is smooth. The soup will not be discolored if it is cooked in enameled ware.

Served with toast or oyster crackers, this soup makes a meal in itself. It is very nourishing and will never give even a delicate child the nightmare, which can be so easily acquired from food too rich or heavy.

A big Swede working in a shipyard shouted to a boy helper to bring him a peevie. The boy started out to the tool shed, but being doubtful as to the nature of the tool he was going after, he turned back to ask the Swede just what it was. The husky blond worker was disgusted to see the boy coming back empty handed.

"Der he goes, coming back!" he grumbled. "Next time I send a dumb fool after something I go myself!"

PERHAPS

A little boy who was very much puzzled over the theory of evolution, questioned his mother thus:

"Mother, am I descended from a monkey?"

"I don't know," the mother replied. "I never knew your father's people."

OBITUARY

DEATH OF DARNLEY LIDDELL MURISON

Darnley Libbell Murison died at Macleod Hospital on Saturday, November 21st from hemorrhage of the brain. Deceased was born in England sixty-two years ago. He came to Canada in 1887 and joined the Mounted Police at Regina that year—coming to Macleod shortly after on police service. In 1915 he took charge of the Customs office at Macleod, later resigning this position and accepting a situation as clerk at the Empire hotel, which he occupied up to the time of his death.

The late Mr. Murison was prominent in Masonic circles, was a staunch conservative, and was a member of Christ Church congregation. He leaves no relatives in Alberta, being predeceased by his wife several years ago.

The funeral of the late D. L. Murison was held Sunday, November 22nd, from the Church of England, and Masonic funeral rites were observed by the Masonic lodge of Macleod, assisted by members from Graman, Pincher Creek and Lethbridge. It was one of the largest Masonic funerals ever seen in Macleod. The church was filled to overflowing and the service was very impressive. The pall bearers were: John Herron, Pincher Creek; Staff Sergeant Allen, Lethbridge; Staff Sergeant Webb, W. N. Damon, A. Young and R. D. McNay, Macleod.

YES HE WOULD

A big Swede working in a shipyard shouted to a boy helper to bring him a peevie. The boy started out to the tool shed, but being doubtful as to the nature of the tool he was going after, he turned back to ask the Swede just what it was. The husky blond worker was disgusted to see the boy coming back empty handed.

"Der he goes, coming back!" he grumbled. "Next time I send a dumb fool after something I go myself!"

PERHAPS

A little boy who was very much puzzled over the theory of evolution, questioned his mother thus:

"Mother, am I descended from a monkey?"

"I don't know," the mother replied. "I never knew your father's people."

THE MANITOBA OF TODAY

Knowing one's country is one of the first principles of geography, and this is particularly relevant in a country such as Canada. Here nearly everything is new, and continual change is taking place. In the western provinces Canada is making history—she is establishing records in development never heretofore heard of, and the prospects would appear to be that what has been done is but the beginning of an era of progress. In order to keep the public informed on the advances being made, the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior has issued a number of handbooks on the several provinces. One of these, on Manitoba, has just been fully revised, and is available to adult readers on request. This report is one of great value to those already resident in the west, as well as to prospective settlers; it gives a true picture of the province as it is, without any attempt at exaggeration. Our readers may therefore feel safe in sending copies to their friends overseas or across the line who may desire information on Manitoba as it is today. The Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior will mail copies to prospective settlers at the request of our readers.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION

(By Dr. C. M. Hincks, Medical Director, Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene.)

All over the world a new type of hospital is being built—the psychopathic hospital, where people who have mental troubles are studied and treated.

The very words, psychopathic hospital, indicate the new theories of medical experts—that mental troubles may be studied and successfully treated. A psychopathic hospital is also an aid in prevention. Prevention of the bad mental habits that frequently lead to insanity is part of the field of the science of mental hygiene.

The best time to prevent traits which in later years develop into forms of insanity, is in the very earliest years of childhood. Good habits of thinking are as easily formed as bad ones. Discipline, self control, courage, affection and loyalty, the strength of character and the qualities of personality that make for contentment and a happy useful life can be developed in children by curbing the bad and encouraging the good by personal example and precept. As in everything else, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Where there's a will there is a way.

Uneasy rests the tooth that wears a crown.

Provincial Seed Fair
The Alberta Provincial Seed Fair will be held in Calgary in January, during the period of the Convention of the United Farmers, the dates of which are January 19, 20, 21 and 22. It is expected that there will be a good competition again this year in all classes. Prize lists for the seed fair will be available within a few days, and may be obtained from the field crops branch of the Department of Agriculture.

Calgary Stampede Picture
The Western film produced by the Universal Film Corporation, starring Hoot Gibson, and which is entitled "The Calgary Stampede" is now being shown throughout United States and Canada, and is resulting in some very fine publicity for the Calgary Stampede, and incidentally for Alberta. The picture is built up around the Calgary Stampede and Fiftieth Jubilee held last year, and many fine scenes of the stampede are shown. Scenery around the Highwood River, and the Prince of Wales Ranch is also featured.

Alberta Horse and Cattle Men Win Prizes

Alberta exhibitors in the horse and cattle classes at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto the past week were heavy winners. In the Shorthorn classes, the Prince of Wales "King of the Faries" won the grand championship against strong competition. H. G. Morrison's three-year-old Aberdeen Angus Cow was first in her class and was reserve champion. In Herefords, most of the prizes came to Alberta. Frank Collicutt of Crossfield, and O. A. Boggs and Sons, of Daysland, dividing the honors. Collicutt won all the female championships, his junior yearling heifer was junior and grand champion, and his four-year-old cow was senior and reserve grand champion. Senior and grand champion went to Boggs' on their bull, Columbus Don, and the reserve went to Frank Collicutt on Willow Spring V.C. and Willow Spring Gay Lad 515.

In graded herds, Collicutt was first and Boggs second in the junior herds. Boggs was second, and in the class of three get of one sire, Collicutt was first and Boggs second, with Boggs first in two progeny of one cow.

The University of Alberta came strongly to the front in the finished beef market animals and won six firsts in Angus, Hereford and Shorthorn steer classes. J. L. Walter's came first and W. W. Sharpe's second. In junior yearlings, the University came second with Sharpe's steer.

In the Senior Yearling Hereford class, the University came first and also at the top in the junior class. In the senior Calf Class, the U. of A. had second place and in the junior class won first, third and sixth.

Woe Dale, a Shorthorn owned by J. M. Guardhouse, Weston, Ont., won the grand championship in steer classes and the University of Alberta captured the reserve of the show.

Horses
All the first prizes in Percheron stallions have been won by Davenport and Grouseway of Lacombe, Alberta. The championships will go to these breeders when they are awarded. Geo. Lane and Co. of the Bar U ranch were winners of seconds and thirds in several of the stallion classes.

Compliments Alberta Butter
High compliments to the quality of Alberta butter and the Western butter were paid in a speech recently delivered in London, England, by A. J. Mills, chairman of a large importing firm, at a dinner given by the High Commissioner for Canada. In his speech Mr. Mills said: "I am very pleased to see, in connection with butter, the marked development that is taking place in the north-west, and the butter we are now getting from Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba is of a very fine quality, well graded, and a great credit to the producer. This opinion has been confirmed in a marked way at this week's London Dairy Show, where Canadian butters, in competition with New Zealand and Australia, obtained the first three prizes in salted, and first prize in unsalted. It only shows what can be done in your factories, and if you wanted encouragement you have it this week."

Short Course for Creamery Workers

A three weeks' creamery course is now being offered jointly by the University and the Department of Agriculture, commencing Tuesday morning, December 1st, at 9 o'clock, in Room 138, of the South Laboratory, University of Alberta.

The course is planned for people who have already had some practical experience in creamery work and intend to again return to it. Lectures will be given each day during the course and will cover principles and methods in the production and handling of milk and cream; the testing, grading and quality basis marketing of cream and butter; the care and handling of the apparatus and equipment used in creamery operations and aspects of our dairy legislation and organization. The practical work in the dairy laboratories will include the receiving, recording, testing, grading and pasteurization of cream; buttermaking; grading and composition tests; the testing of milk and cream for butterfat and acidity. Briefly, it is the purpose to bring out the importance of closely noting and checking the details of the various operations. Sufficient time will be taken to review and discuss the work done during each period.

The programme will be so arranged that creamery workers who are not in a position to attend the full course may be able to plan a shorter stay and still participate in the line of work that interests them most.

Those who plan to attend the course should notify the Department as soon as possible, and bring with them their butter triers, note books and clean white overalls, suits or aprons. A further course will be offered, to commence Tuesday morning, January 5th, 1926.

NOT GLAD RAGS

Sonnie is three and occasionally stammers. The other day he had the following conversation with me: "Oh Mavver—the Rag Man asked me if I had any rags, 'tittle boy.' " "Yes, what did you tell him?" "I said 'y-y-y-yes, b-b-b-but I hafta w-w-w-wear 'em!'"

It's a long line that has no garage.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL NEWS

Miss Ann Hunter, of Spring Point, visited friends in Macleod this week.

Nurse Rothney, of the Van Haerlin Hospital staff, has returned to Lethbridge after spending a week with her parents here.

Mrs. Arthur Young and Mrs. A. Ferguson accompanied by Miss Olive Young and Miss Edith Ferguson motored to Lethbridge Saturday to visit friends.

Xmas Shoppers would be well advised to remember the big two-weeks storm of last year just prior to Christmas and make their purchases early in case history repeats itself.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Dilatash accompanied by Master Stanley, were visitors in Macleod on Tuesday of this week. Mr. Dilatash reports an excellent season at the Lakes this summer, the tourists crop being extraordinary fine. Mr. Dilatash has just returned from a successful hunting trip in the mountains on which he was accompanied by Van B. Foster, an oil millionaire of Los Angeles, California. They report a full bag of deer, sheep and goats. One sheep head was a near record for horns—18 1/2 inch base and a curl of 38 inches. They report plenty of grizzly signs but were not lucky enough to score.

Miss Becher, Miss Martin, and E. Young and G. R. Davis motored to Lethbridge last Saturday night to attend closing carnival events and dance.

Harold Rutledge, of the Chevrolet Motor Company, was a Macleod business visitor this week, conferring with the local agent, G. H. Scougall.

B. F. Mitchell, civil engineer, of Edmonton, spent this week in Macleod, laying out the new road from the north end of the Mackenzie Bridge along the north side of Old Man River, and the south and east side of Willow Creek. This is to connect with the old Blackfoot trail that crosses the creek east of Tom McLean's dwelling, where a bridge will be built at some early date. This has been under consideration by the Municipality and the Government for some time, and it is now taking practical shape by this survey. That this will be constructed at once was stressed by the engineer, as he said the brush and trees will be cleared off the right of way at once, and if the weather is good, grading will be done this fall, so as to be ready for the spring work, and for the traffic that comes over this road from the north-east districts leading to Macleod, where they prefer to trade.

Miss Molly Mathews spent the week end in visiting friends in Lethbridge.

The Royal Bank of Canada, Macleod branch, has put in place two very impressive gold name signs.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Dilatash accompanied by Master Stanley left this morning for Spokane and other points as far south as Florida where they will visit friends and relatives for a few months.

At the Annual Meeting of Macleod General Hospital held in the town hall on Thursday, November 19th, after routine business the following were elected to the Hospital Board for the ensuing year: J. Swinerton, C. A. Mercer, C. W. Stevens, Wesley Shield and George McParquhar.

H. E. Henderson, of the Good Roads Department of the Provincial Government, is now located in Macleod with his men for the purpose of getting details in connection with the regrading and in some parts rebuilding the main highway running north and south, and carrying out the plans as outlined by the Minister of Public Works for the province a short time ago when he visited Macleod. These men have just completed similar work from Staveland to High River, and if the weather continues fine they hope to have all the information necessary and then on the blue prints, so that the contractors will be able to intelligently tender on the work. Similar work has been carried on from the boundary. It is also understood that all construction work for 1926 will be from the town of Macleod, east and west, then north and south. This work was begun by Engineer Henderson on Friday and will be continued until completed.

A very pleasant work came to Chairman Day of the Macleod Public School Board, on Friday afternoon when he was called upon to present prizes to the highest standing students in the High School for the past year. The winners were: Grade IX, Marjorie Craig; Grade X, Verna Armstrong; Grade XI, Stanley Rands; Grade XII, Mary Hanahan, for standing highest in their respective classes. Mr. Day made a very telling speech on the subject of "Study." Mayor McDonald spoke to the school on "Oratory," when he strongly stressed this most important part of the students work. The Literary Society of the High School presented a program that was in keeping with the occasion. The prizes were originally given by the I.O.G.E., but since this society has disbanded the work has been carried on by Mrs. J. W. McDonald and Mrs. W. A. Gordon, who with the aid of the teachers make violets and have a "Violet Day."

The young people of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church were the guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Whiteman at an At Home party at the manse on Friday evening. About sixty teenage boys and girls, young men and young women responded to the invitation. They spent a very pleasant evening in games, singing and various amusements, and after dainty refreshments were served. Mr. Whiteman gave a few minutes' talk on the relations of the young people to the church. He specially emphasized the power for good in the church and in the town of such a band of young people as were present. He stated how delighted he was to see so many present, and he understood quite a number had not been able to come, and he had no idea when he came to Macleod that there were so many young people connected with the congregation of St. Andrew's. Mr. Whiteman informed them that this was only the first of many such gatherings that will be held during the winter months. A vote of thanks was tendered most heartily to Mr. and Mrs. Whiteman for the entertainment, everyone declaring afterwards, that it had been the most enjoyable evening they had spent for some time.

INDUCTION SERVICE AT MACLEOD UNITED CHURCH WAS VERY IMPRESSIVE

In the United Church of Canada Tuesday evening, November 24, a very fine service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Ferguson and Rev. Captain Pearson, when they inducted the Rev. W. H. Irwin, as minister of the United Church of Canada in Macleod.

The Rev. Dr. Ferguson had charge of the service, and after singing of some old familiar hymns and reading scripture lessons, the Rev. Captain Pearson preached an appropriate sermon in which he stressed the great importance of the work to which Rev. W. H. Irwin was called, and the high standing of any man who is thus called to so great a service for the Master.

The Rev. Dr. Ferguson explained that Mr. Irwin had been sent by the last conference of the Methodist church, that Mr. Irwin had received a unanimous call from the congregation, which is the best recommendation any man can have. "Tonight, we as representatives of God, induct him into His service, to minister to you the word of God, and to you we commit him, that he may be received by you, and that he may feed you the bread of life. Mr. Irwin you have the highest calling in this world." As Dr. Ferguson finished the charge to the Rev. W. H. Irwin, he then called on the congregation to receive Mr. Irwin as the minister. The congregation rose in a body, and with bowed heads signified their acceptance of Mr. Irwin as God's servant, and that they would bear true allegiance to him in the furtherance of church interests.

The closing hymn, "Breathe on Me Breath of God," brought a very interesting service to a close.

HE TOLD 'EM

In a certain town of south-western Iowa, practical jokers abound. The undertaker's private consultation-room is headquarters—because it's just outside the limelight.

One evening Bill Tallcorn got more refreshment than was good for him—in fact the "corn" put Bill to sleep.

So the boys hoisted Bill, bodily, to the upper story, and deposited him neatly into one of the coffins—then waited to see what happened.

After several hours Bill awoke, sat up, took in the surroundings with a judicial eye, and ejaculated: "Jesh like I told 'em, by heck. Resurrection Day—an' I'm the first guy out!"
